THE TIE THAT BINDS

by

Yatisha D. Bothwell

The tie that binds is thicker than water,
More defining of our essence than even our one blood.
It's the way we care, the God we share,
The tie that binds us is our love.

It reaches through the ages,
Spanning across generational lines.
It brings happiness and heals our pain with time.
Our love for one another is the tie that binds.

It urges you to communicate affection across the miles.
It motivates us to come together as one.
Putting aside petty elements of our daily lives,
Just for a moment to embrace this familial-binding love.

Now and for all times in our hearts and minds,
Through out all our lives, love will be our tie that binds.

INTRODUCTION

Montgomery Family History

Montg Family Reunion unity in the New Millennium.
The Montgomery Family Reunion is a gathering of descendants of Joe and Auttie Byers Montgomery. It is a rich heritage, of one we all can be proud. This year's theme is "Bridging the Gap". This is a reflection of the need to bridge relationships with each other and share our rich family history with our children and foster the same Christian values and beliefs today as was exemplified by our forefathers.

This album is an effort to bring together a representation of our family history. A compilation of families and dates that are only a shadow of the struggles, stories and many successes behind each name and date. For that reason I have not taken the display of the information lightly. So know if there are mistakes in representation of any of this information, it is not intentional and I welcome the opportunity to correct any of it.

We
Joe Montgomery was a symbol of what ~~X~~ we have learned to respect in a Four Pillar Man. A man who was a servant king and leader to his family; a tender warrior in provision and protection; a wise mentor to his children and others in the community and finally a friend to all.

Joe Montgomery was a farmer. He worked a large farm as a sharecropper. He also worked in the coal mines during the winter months. Auttie Montgomery was a devoted wife and mother.

Both parents were members of St. Paul United Methodist Church and very faithful in their service; not only in church, but in school and the community as well. Each of them were caring parents.

Joe Montgomery served in many positions in his church and community. He served in the following capacities: Methodist Layman, Superintendent of Sunday School for many years, a Trustee, President of Methodist Men, Steward, and as Lay Delegate to annual conferences. He also worked with Voters League and the NAACP.

Auttie Montgomery was a very quiet and meek woman, but always stood by her husband and family.

parents
We have many fond memories of our parents. We will never forget our father for his broad smile and warm handshakes, conversations, prayers, those compassionate touches for his friends, neighbors and youth in his community. ~~He~~ They always exhibited a Christ-like spirit and great love for mankind.

We sincerely hope that the family will continue this legacy.
I read recently that one of the more critical times in history (families, political, organizational, etc.) is the period of transition in leadership. And to effectively implement such transitions you have to start training well in advance of the transition to avoid dropping the baton.

My prayer is that this Reunion of 1998 will kindle that type of leadership exhibited in Joe Montgomery, first in the men of our family and secondly the support of the women and children to Bridge the Gap between families, generations and most of all our relationship to THE FATHER, to assure the legacy continues.
